

Dr Anne Lyche Solheim, Limnologist / Aquatic Ecologist, anne.lyche@niva.no, tel +47 97677250
Position at NIVA: Senior Researcher

Dr. Solheim holds a Ph.D. in Plankton ecology and eutrophication and a M. sc. in Limnology. She has 17 years experience as research scientist (limnologist) and manager on eutrophication, water quality, biodiversity and lake restoration (biomanipulation). Specialization on plankton/food web ecology and nutrient cycling in lakes. She has also 6 years experience on environmental education related to freshwater resources. Present position is as Research Manager for Eutrophication and Biodiversity in Freshwater. She has broad experience in project development, management, implementation and dissemination of results, and has worked in projects related to water resource management including monitoring of lakes and plans for pollution abatement measures. She is presently involved in national and international work related to the implementation of the EU Water Framework Directive, and has extensive experience from research strategies related to developing countries. She has been working in a number of countries including Norway, Uganda, Sri Lanka, USA and Canada.