

Prof. Harsha Ratnaweera, Water Resources Management /Environmental Engineering Specialist

harsha.ratnaweera@niva.no, tel +47 9822 7777

Position at NIVA: Director of Innovation and Business Development, International project coordinator

Position at University of Life Sciences, Norway: Professor

Prof. Ratnaweera has a Ph.D. in Environmental Engineering (1991) and a M.Sc. in Chemical Engineering (1987) with professional experience in water related environmental management and technology. He is the Director of International projects at NIVA and also a professor of water and wastewater technology at the Agricultural University of Norway. He has broad experience in project development, management, implementation and R&D in Asian, African, Eastern European, Scandinavian countries and in multi-national projects on environmental technology / water and sanitation. He has project experiences in environmental technologies, pollution abatement strategies, water resources management, national environmental action plans, EIAs, pollution problems, development of novel environmental technology concepts and modelling of wastewater processes. He is fluent in Russian language. He has worked in Norway, Bangladesh, Czech. Rep., China, Ghana, Mongolia, Nigeria, Poland, Spain, Sri Lanka, Ukraine, USA and in a number of other European countries.